ANDRAH FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES BENEFICIARIES OF THE PHOTOSHOP SOUP2NUTS. 2006 CONFERENCE SLATED FOR JUNE 23 & 24, 2006.

Seeking to expand an awareness of digital imaging and the technical tools available in the creative field, the Andrah Foundation, a private family foundation established in 1995 and registered as a 501 C (3) in the State of Michigan, created Photoshop Soup2Nuts.

The mission of the event is to promote the field of digital imaging as a profession, or a reasonable and creative hobby for all persons, and to introduce the field and its technology to those who would not otherwise have an opportunity to experience it.

The Photoshop Soup2Nuts Conference is a two day learning conference with workshops, speakers, networking, and events encompassing the entire genre of digital imaging workflow. The conference is produced by volunteers, corporations, and educators passionate about the mission of the event.

Mattaei Botanical Gardens, University of Michigan

Located at 1800 North Dixboro Rd., the Matthaei Botanical Gardens is a 300-acre site that includes a variety of outdoor display gardens, a 10,000+ square-foot conservatory, and miles of nature trails.

The indoor Conservatory, which displays plants from tropical rainforests, Mediterranean-type climates, and deserts, will serve as the host for Andrah's announcement of beneficiaries for the Photoshop Soup2Nuts, 2006 Conference. Candidate organizations seeking Andrah support submitted applications reflecting the Andrah mission of technical education and implementation for all regardless of economic well-being.
