Digital Imaging Conference Draws Heavy-Hitters to Ann Arbor - Spaces Limited

The Fourth Annual Photoshop Soup2Nuts 2.006 Conference returns to Ann Arbor June 23 and 24, at Washtenaw Community College. The two day learning conference is sponsored by Microsoft Corporation, Comerica, Phase One, Epson, Canon and Adobe.

From internationally renowned digital experts such as Ben Willmore, Jeff Schewe, Scott Kelby and Doug Elbinger to an exhibition hall hosting new digital imaging products from national and local vendors – Photoshop Soup2Nuts will provide digital imaging information for the hobbyist to experts in the field.

New to the Photoshop Soup2Nuts 2.006 Conference:

The Great Graphic Makeover - This fun and adventurous event was developed to see digital imaging and technology applied to a real marketing challenge. Conference attendees will watch two world-renowned digital imaging experts assemble and manage competitive creative teams who will tackle the same marketing challenge.

The Portfolio review - Providing both students and professionals a unique opportunity to meet with the Photoshop Soup2Nuts 2.006 presenters one-on-one for a 15-minute session. Portfolio Reviews are available to individuals who attend the exhibition hall. Access to the exhibition hall is affordable at $25 a person

Conference packages range from $25 to $380 for the conference. Space is limited, early registration is encouraged. Registration is taken online at www.photoshopsoup2nuts.org or by calling 1-888-600-soup (7687)
